Lil' Chef's Cooking Lessons

Kids love to cook! And taking lessons allows them an opportunity to explore their inner chef while learning basic kitchen safety and cooking techniques. Cooking is a lifelong skill that allows each individual to develop their own creative and artistic style. It is very much a form of self expression, and by beginning at an early age, it helps children increase their self-confidence, develop a sense of responsibility and learn about the importance of becoming a team player to achieve specific outcomes. Call today to register your Lil' Chef in one of our many classes!

Class prices start at $25 per hour and include all class materials, food and a chef hat and apron!
